

ALLIES TO BREAK OFF PEACE TALKS

Delegates to Decide To-day
When Final Action Will Be Taken.

MOVE BELIEVED A BLUFF

Suggestion That Young Turks
Should Have Opportunity to Reply.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Repeating their threats of ten days ago, the delegates of the Italian States to the peace conference have given a statement to the press that they have decided to break off negotiations and give the stipulated ten days' notice of the end of the conference. This may mean a renewal of the war during the present week.

It may be recalled that on January 15, when the allies made a similar threat, they had a string to pull, although the string was at first so inconspicuous that it was overlooked. This present threat is similarly fettered and may not be believed today.

The Balkan envoys conferred last evening and adopted a resolution to this effect that the Turkish delays were insupportable and in view of the published declarations that the new government in Constantinople did not intend to continue with the proposals of the Powers.

The committee of five to formulate a note to the Ottoman delegates and to Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, who is honorary president of the conference, declaring the negotiations off.

This note will be reviewed at a full meeting of the delegates to-day, when it is expected that the presentation of the ultimatum to be decided as well as other details which will also then be determined.

The announcement may thus be regarded as present as a contingent threat to the motive obviously is to hurry the Turks to bring things to a head.

The allies are fretting over the prospect of a premature termination of the conference in the field and also of delaying the agricultural work in the country. There is also possibly some truth in the suggestion that they hope by the hint of renewing the war to induce the Powers to take more stern measures at Constantinople.

No one here doubts that Turkey's refusal to the Powers when it comes will be a refusal to cede Adrianople and allow the Powers to settle the fate of the Balkan peninsula and so far the allies' position is regarded as natural, but opinions differ as to the wisdom of the action and the matter is still in the hands of the Powers.

The announcement of the Daily Telegraph while admitting that the Italian envoys have cause for complaint that they have been severely and needlessly rebuffed by the time killing methods of the Turks, charges these losses against Bulgaria's ambitious and mistaken statesmanship. He says: "Turkey may be moving much too slowly, but it will not matter if Bulgaria rushes too swiftly."

The writer remarks that the Greeks and Serbians have nothing new to gain by a renewal of the war, and if it starts afresh they will be expiating the mistakes of the Bulgarians.

The Ambassadors, continues the writer, recommend that the allies hasten to settle the matter. He says: "Let even the Young Turks have a chance to show their hand, even if the revolution had not occurred, it would not yet be concluded as the policy of Kiamil Pasha, former Grand Vizier was to take the form of a series of questions asking the Powers to be explicit in their promises to help him, the ex-Vizier being determined to avoid Adrianople without something to balance the account."

The writer urges that the allies can therefore still afford to wait until the new Government has spoken and then demand the armistice if the nature of its reply so necessitates. He contends, however, that whenever the campaign is renewed, if it is renewed, it will bring the allies to the Powers.

The writer also says that the Powers will allow a frontier from Media to Bulgaria not a big war indemnity and that the Balkan states can only expiate Bulgaria's mistakes by a further expenditure of money and lives.

A despatch to which the Daily Telegraph gives prominence may have an effect on the situation. It is from Constantinople and reports that the German Embassy has been informed of this action. But at the last moment certain demands were made which, on the suggestion of the embassy, the bank refused and the ratification was postponed indefinitely.

The matter, however, was arranged on Saturday and the final signatures were appended, whereupon Huoguenin (Brenn) undertook to get for Turkey from the Deutsche Bank an advance of $100,000, to be paid back when the next loan is concluded.

TURKS WILL DELAY REPLY.

Hadji Ali Bey Says New Government Is One of Resistance.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that Hadji Ali Bey, new Minister of the Interior, as saying that the reply of the cabinet to the note of the Powers was not likely to be sent in very soon. The Government, he said, was fully conscious of the terrible conditions and also for the history of Turkey.

The new Government, he said, "will

LION TREES A FROZEN BOY.

Relieves Viall After Fifteen Hours and Victim Loses Legs.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 26.—For fifteen hours Frank Engstrom, 11 years old, of Georgetown, a mining camp ten miles from Anaconda, was tried by a mountain lion a few nights ago while the thermometer registered 35 degrees below zero.

Today the little fellow was brought to Butte and two frozen legs had to be amputated in an effort to save his life. The boy, a husky little mountaineer, was sent on an errand from his home to Anaconda. About midway between the two places, on the shores of Echo Lake, he saw the skulking form of a big lion and climbed a pine tree.

The beast took up a waiting position at the foot of the tree and for five hours kept up his hungry yell. The extreme cold drove the lion back to the forest, but while daylight remained the boy could see the beast keeping watch on a sheltered knoll some distance away.

Later in the night, when the boy's physical suffering overcame his fear, he descended from the tree and retraced his way to his home in Georgetown, crawling most of the way and reaching his father's cabin late in the morning.

PLAN NATIONAL FUND TO SAVE GEN. SICKLES

Comptroller Wm. Schmeier and Sheriff Harburger Each
Subscribe $100.

If a conference that Gen. Daniel E. Sickles is to have this morning with his wife and his son, Stanton, brings about certain concessions on his part, the beleaguered veteran will probably come happily out of the tangle he is in with the State because of an admitted deficit of $23,476 in his accounts as president of the State Monuments Commission.

But if the General, who yesterday afternoon asked Mrs. Sickles to talk with him today, changes his mind again, he will be left to the mercies of Sheriff Julius Harburger.

With the possibility of Gen. Sickles being moved to Ludlow street jail today, persons interested in his welfare were devising ways and means yesterday to prevent his incarceration.

The move, however, was decided to be a committee and as the Legislature adjourns on Friday no meeting of the committee would be possible until the following Tuesday and the matter could not come before the Senate until Wednesday, February 5. Meantime Mr. Wilcox would continue in office and thus have five additional days in which to complete his task.

But Mr. Hearst is quite as well aware as the Governor of the consequences of such a course and the Governor now knows that if he fails to send in a nomination early this week, in time to permit the Senate to confirm it, if it chooses, Mr. Hearst will accept that as an unmistakable evidence of treachery to him and to the people and an unfriendly act which will lead to immediate reprisals of the sort the Governor most fears.

In addition Mr. Hearst, who was doubtful last week as to whether Mr. Murphy and the Democratic organization were actually interested in the substitution contract question to the extent of insisting upon the signing of the contract, has now decided that they are in earnest and intend that they shall be signed. Consequently Mr. Hearst means to make the attitude of the Governor now a test whether his recent declarations of State leadership were honest or mere talks for purposes of political advertisement. If the Governor fails to send in a nomination early in the week Mr. Hearst will accept this as proof that Gov. Sulzer is subservient to Mr. Murphy and treat him as a "Murphy" Governor.

The Albany view is that the Governor, faced by this insistent demand of Mr. Hearst, will send in a nomination early in the week and thus saddle upon the Senate the sole responsibility for the signing of the contract. In that event the Senate committee, if the contracts are to be saved, will have to resort to dilatory devices to throw the matter over, for it is the fixed belief here that the contracts will not be signed before February 1. If he does this the Governor can then declare before Mr. Hearst that he has done his best.

But as has been so frequently said before the Governor can if he chooses remove Mr. Wilcox on charges and has charges on which to act. He has said that he would not do this. But if the Senate holds up the nomination and Mr. Hearst delays the signing of the contract by adjourning the commission it is morally certain that Mr. Hearst will demand that the Governor take the one course open to him and end the activities of Mr. Wilcox by removing him. If he declines to do this exactly the same suspicion on the part of Mr. Hearst as to his real loyalty will be provoked.

In a word the Governor is now fully aware that Mr. Hearst means to make him take a decisive position in the matter. That is the one thing he has been endeavoring to escape all along. Every word he has said publicly and privately has indicated his extreme anxiety to keep Mr. Hearst in good humor, but to save the contract. He does not want to interfere, he believes that such interference will bring him into collision with Mr. Murphy and the Democratic Legislature, but on the other hand he is desperately afraid of Mr. Hearst and the current belief here is that if he is forced to choose he will break with Murphy in this case.

Again the question of the man to be nominated is causing Gov. Sulzer great anxiety. It was understood in advance that he should name John H. Delaney, who was appointed to the Carlisle investigating committee mainly to give him a little public attention. But Mr. Hearst will not accept Delaney and the Governor knows it. More than that, the Governor knows that Mr. Hearst will

Continued on Fourth Page.

WILSON TO LEAVE U. S.
Will Visit Philippines and Panama While President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Washington officials expressed interest to-night in a rumor that originated with persons who have seen Gov. Wilson lately, that the incoming President has already decided on two and possibly more trips out of the United States during his administration. These are to the Panama Canal and the Philippine Islands.

The President-elect is said to have expressed the intention of visiting Panama after the close of the extra session of Congress this year to witness the completion and informal opening of the canal.

He also is said to be anxious to make a study of the Philippines at first hand, before endeavoring to have Congress grant them freedom. This trip would necessarily be put over until after the close of Congress in 1914.

He is also understood to be desirous of visiting Alaska some time during his administration.

HEARST THREATENS SUBWAY INJUNCTION

Will Block Contracts Unless Sulzer Names Wilcox's
Successor at Once.

SEEMS READY FOR A BREAK

"Choose Between Murphy and Me," His Ultimatum to the Governor.

ALBANY, Jan. 26.—Within forty-eight hours Gov. Sulzer has again heard from Mr. Hearst on the matter of the subway contracts. What he has heard has been far more disquieting than the message which Clarence J. Shearn brought here last week. The Governor now knows that Mr. Hearst has not been deceived and will not be deceived by any kind words or protestations of sympathy unaccompanied by effective action. He has again and in still more emphatic fashion been asked to demonstrate that he is Mr. Hearst's kind of friend of the people and that his own declarations that he was State leader were more than mere words.

Whatever the Governor thought last week about the matter he is able to conclude now that Mr. Hearst is in earnest, and that this week, in New York, he means to demonstrate this earnestness by taking such legal steps as he can to delay the signing of the contracts. The Albany view is that he will ask for court injunctions to prevent the signing of the contracts, the effect of which will be to delay the actual closing of the affair and make it necessary for the Governor to indicate whether he is willing to let William R. Wilcox remain in office after February 1, when his term expires, to sign the contracts.

When the Legislature adjourned on Friday the understanding between the Governor and the Democratic leaders was that the name of the successor to Mr. Wilcox would not be sent to the Senate until Thursday. In the ordinary routine of Senate procedure this nomination would then be referred to a committee and as the Legislature adjourns on Friday no meeting of the committee would be possible until the following Tuesday and the matter could not come before the Senate until Wednesday, February 5. Meantime Mr. Wilcox would continue in office and thus have five additional days in which to complete his task.

But Mr. Hearst is quite as well aware as the Governor of the consequences of such a course and the Governor now knows that if he fails to send in a nomination early this week, in time to permit the Senate to confirm it, if it chooses, Mr. Hearst will accept that as an unmistakable evidence of treachery to him and to the people and an unfriendly act which will lead to immediate reprisals of the sort the Governor most fears.

In addition Mr. Hearst, who was doubtful last week as to whether Mr. Murphy and the Democratic organization were actually interested in the substitution contract question to the extent of insisting upon the signing of the contract, has now decided that they are in earnest and intend that they shall be signed. Consequently Mr. Hearst means to make the attitude of the Governor now a test whether his recent declarations of State leadership were honest or mere talks for purposes of political advertisement. If the Governor fails to send in a nomination early in the week Mr. Hearst will accept this as proof that Gov. Sulzer is subservient to Mr. Murphy and treat him as a "Murphy" Governor.

The Albany view is that the Governor, faced by this insistent demand of Mr. Hearst, will send in a nomination early in the week and thus saddle upon the Senate the sole responsibility for the signing of the contract. In that event the Senate committee, if the contracts are to be saved, will have to resort to dilatory devices to throw the matter over, for it is the fixed belief here that the contracts will not be signed before February 1. If he does this the Governor can then declare before Mr. Hearst that he has done his best.

But as has been so frequently said before the Governor can if he chooses remove Mr. Wilcox on charges and has charges on which to act. He has said that he would not do this. But if the Senate holds up the nomination and Mr. Hearst delays the signing of the contract by adjourning the commission it is morally certain that Mr. Hearst will demand that the Governor take the one course open to him and end the activities of Mr. Wilcox by removing him. If he declines to do this exactly the same suspicion on the part of Mr. Hearst as to his real loyalty will be provoked.

In a word the Governor is now fully aware that Mr. Hearst means to make him take a decisive position in the matter. That is the one thing he has been endeavoring to escape all along. Every word he has said publicly and privately has indicated his extreme anxiety to keep Mr. Hearst in good humor, but to save the contract. He does not want to interfere, he believes that such interference will bring him into collision with Mr. Murphy and the Democratic Legislature, but on the other hand he is desperately afraid of Mr. Hearst and the current belief here is that if he is forced to choose he will break with Murphy in this case.

Again the question of the man to be nominated is causing Gov. Sulzer great anxiety. It was understood in advance that he should name John H. Delaney, who was appointed to the Carlisle investigating committee mainly to give him a little public attention. But Mr. Hearst will not accept Delaney and the Governor knows it. More than that, the Governor knows that Mr. Hearst will

Continued on Fourth Page.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.
THE STANDARD R. R. OF THE SOUTH.
Leaves New York Daily for Florida, Cuba, South America, etc. 12:30 noon, 3:24, 5:20 P. M. 12:15 A. M.

RUTLAND RAILROAD TO MONTREAL.
Leaves New York Daily for Montreal, Canada, etc. 12:30 noon, 3:24, 5:20 P. M. 12:15 A. M.

BLEASE MAY SUCCEED TILLMAN.

Angry Legislature May Turn Down
Senator To-morrow.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 26.—The friends of Senator Tillman are indignant and alarmed at the disclosure of a plot to defeat him for reelection in the Legislature next Tuesday. Senator Tillman was induced for reelection in the primary, but the legislators have been so angered by his recent attack on them that they are prepared to disregard the primary vote and defeat him if possible. It is said that the enemies of Tillman have fixed upon Gov. Cole L. Blease as their candidate and that they will support him for Senator on Tuesday.

Tillman in his recent attack on the Legislature charged that it was absolutely controlled by the railroads and was disgracing the State. The Governor has taken no part in the movement, but the passage by the House of a resolution calling on Senator Tillman to furnish proof of his charge is viewed as the opening gun in the fight to prevent his reelection.

Tillman is politically weaker in South Carolina than at any time since he entered public life and his enemies believe they have a good chance to retire him from the Senate.

It became known after the meeting that Adolph Lewisohn, the banker, had given $150,000 for the work spoken of by Dr. Jacob. Several weeks ago the trustees felt the enthusiasm shown by Mr. Lewisohn and "went down into their pockets" as it was descriptively said yesterday, and contributed something over $500,000.

It is intended to add 200 beds to the hospital in the contemplated extension, and to include wards for children and women. The laboratory is for the study of diseases. It is expected that it will take $1,250,000 to carry out this scheme and the aid of the public is asked.

After the reelection of the old board of officers Dr. Jacob was asked to address the meeting yesterday. He said in part:

Mount Sinai Hospital was established at the time that modern medicine was developing into its most progressive epoch. The hospital was started for the treatment of needy Jews by Jews who were better off in the matter of wealth. It was soon made unsectarian in character through the activity of the medical board and has since remained so.

The medical board had among its members some of the most noted men in this country in the medical profession: Valentine Mott, Willard Parker and others of equal fame. These men have passed away.

At that time surgery was not a specialty apart from medicine. These men were pioneers in surgery while still being general practitioners. The development of Mount Sinai was about coincident with the work of Pasteur and Lister, who gave such impetus to antiseptics and the treatment of germ diseases. That was about forty years ago.

Since then the hospital has developed a number of specialties with much advantage to the patients. This is especially true in gynecology.

The work in the hospital in the early days was made difficult by the objection which many Jews held to autopsies on the dead bodies of a relative or friend was something not to be tolerated then and in consequence many obscure diseases remained obscure after the death of the patient. The development of the autopsies were for the benefit of themselves as well as for mankind in general. The objections diminished and finally ceased. The practice in regard to autopsies is now the same in Mount Sinai as in other hospitals.

Forty years ago nobody had any decent nursing, either in hospital or in private homes. But the hospital was the first to establish a school for nursing. Since then schools have been established all over the land and it is now possible to get trained nurses all over the country. The teaching of medicine in this hospital should be confined to undergraduates and should not compete with most graduate colleges. The danger is that the hospital will be lost sight of in pushing the college part.

The principal usefulness of a hospital is to instruct a large number of men who go into the country to practice medicine. In this way the hospital is a training school for the student to be equipped for general medical practice, which has fallen into such disfavor.

General practitioners don't amount to much nowadays in the public estimation, as the people have learned that specialists have had a better education and are well as the trades and arts. The general practitioner nowadays is only an agent of the specialist. The general practitioner sends to the laboratory of the specialist to work he should do himself. That the public is losing confidence or has lost confidence in the general practitioner is the fault of the general practitioner himself who should not let his work be done by the specialist. It is possible to regain this public confidence and the hospital is where such work should begin.

The annual report showed that the number of patients treated at the hospital last year was $204. There were 5,586 out-patients, 1,075 in-patients and 1,315 full paying patients. The death rate was 9 per cent. The dispensary looked after 236,297. The receipts for the year were $118,294 and the expenditures $150,661.

ARRESTED RESISTING HOLDUP.
Plea Surprises Judge—Freer Clerk Holds Alleged Assailant.

When Joseph Locades, a clerk, 24 years old, of 173 Meeker avenue, Williamsburg, was arraigned yesterday in the Manhattan avenue police court on a charge of fighting he surprised Magistrate Nash by saying that his arrest was an outrage, because at the time Policeman Long of the Herbert street station nabbed him he was defending himself from two robbers, one of whom blackkicked him.

Locades added that he was on his way home and reached a dark spot at Meeker avenue and Sutton street when the alleged thieves attacked him.

"I was resisting fiercely and shouting for help," said Locades, "when this policeman came along and arrested me and this other fellow."

The other prisoner, Stanislaus Skradules, a Pole, 25 years old, of 144 Richardson street, was charged with felonious assault and carrying concealed weapons.

Skradules was held in $2,000 bail for a hearing to-morrow and Locades was let go.

NEW ORLEANS, NEW MEXICO, CALIFORNIA.
THE SOUTHERN ROUTE.
Via SOUTHERN RAILWAY, connecting at New Orleans with Sunset Route to the Pacific Coast. Dining, drawing, sleeping and observation cars. A. T. Office 24 Fifth Ave.

BIG EXTENSION FOR MT. SINAI HOSPITAL

Adolph Lewisohn Gives $150,000 for Work, and Trustees Add $500,000.

NEW LABORATORY PLANNED

Dr. Abraham Jacobi Describes Progress Made Since Start of Institution.

The annual meeting of the directors of Mount Sinai Hospital was held at the hospital yesterday.

Dr. Abraham Jacobi of the medical board, a former president of the Academy of Medicine, urged an active campaign to raise money to build a pathological laboratory and an extension of the hospital on the plot opposite the hospital on Fifth avenue between Ninety-ninth and 100th streets.

It became known after the meeting that Adolph Lewisohn, the banker, had given $150,000 for the work spoken of by Dr. Jacob. Several weeks ago the trustees felt the enthusiasm shown by Mr. Lewisohn and "went down into their pockets" as it was descriptively said yesterday, and contributed something over $500,000.

It is intended to add 200 beds to the hospital in the contemplated extension, and to include wards for children and women. The laboratory is for the study of diseases. It is expected that it will take $1,250,000 to carry out this scheme and the aid of the public is asked.

After the reelection of the old board of officers Dr. Jacob was asked to address the meeting yesterday. He said in part:

Mount Sinai Hospital was established at the time that modern medicine was developing into its most progressive epoch. The hospital was started for the treatment of needy Jews by Jews who were better off in the matter of wealth. It was soon made unsectarian in character through the activity of the medical board and has since remained so.

The medical board had among its members some of the most noted men in this country in the medical profession: Valentine Mott, Willard Parker and others of equal fame. These men have passed away.

At that time surgery was not a specialty apart from medicine. These men were pioneers in surgery while still being general practitioners. The development of Mount Sinai was about coincident with the work of Pasteur and Lister, who gave such impetus to antiseptics and the treatment of germ diseases. That was about forty years ago.

Since then the hospital has developed a number of specialties with much advantage to the patients. This is especially true in gynecology.

The work in the hospital in the early days was made difficult by the objection which many Jews held to autopsies on the dead bodies of a relative or friend was something not to be tolerated then and in consequence many obscure diseases remained obscure after the death of the patient. The development of the autopsies were for the benefit of themselves as well as for mankind in general. The objections diminished and finally ceased. The practice in regard to autopsies is now the same in Mount Sinai as in other hospitals.

Forty years ago nobody had any decent nursing, either in hospital or in private homes. But the hospital was the first to establish a school for nursing. Since then schools have been established all over the land and it is now possible to get trained nurses all over the country. The teaching of medicine in this hospital should be confined to undergraduates and should not compete with most graduate colleges. The danger is that the hospital will be lost sight of in pushing the college part.

The principal usefulness of a hospital is to instruct a large number of men who go into the country to practice medicine. In this way the hospital is a training school for the student to be equipped for general medical practice, which has fallen into such disfavor.

General practitioners don't amount to much nowadays in the public estimation, as the people have learned that specialists have had a better education and are well as the trades and arts. The general practitioner nowadays is only an agent of the specialist. The general practitioner sends to the laboratory of the specialist to work he should do himself. That the public is losing confidence or has lost confidence in the general practitioner is the fault of the general practitioner himself who should not let his work be done by the specialist. It is possible to regain this public confidence and the hospital is where such work should begin.

The annual report showed that the number of patients treated at the hospital last year was $204. There were 5,586 out-patients, 1,075 in-patients and 1,315 full paying patients. The death rate was 9 per cent. The dispensary looked after 236,297. The receipts for the year were $118,294 and the expenditures $150,661.

ARRESTED RESISTING HOLDUP.
Plea Surprises Judge—Freer Clerk Holds Alleged Assailant.

When Joseph Locades, a clerk, 24 years old, of 173 Meeker avenue, Williamsburg, was arraigned yesterday in the Manhattan avenue police court on a charge of fighting he surprised Magistrate Nash by saying that his arrest was an outrage, because at the time Policeman Long of the Herbert street station nabbed him he was defending himself from two robbers, one of whom blackkicked him.

Locades added that he was on his way home and reached a dark spot at Meeker avenue and Sutton street when the alleged thieves attacked him.

"I was resisting fiercely and shouting for help," said Locades, "when this policeman came along and arrested me and this other fellow."

The other prisoner, Stanislaus Skradules, a Pole, 25 years old, of 144 Richardson street, was charged with felonious assault and carrying concealed weapons.

Skradules was held in $2,000 bail for a hearing to-morrow and Locades was let go.

KILLS HUSBAND IN A DUEL.

Moscow Couple, Both Fencing Professors, Fight With Rapier.

Moscow, Jan. 26.—Mme. Nadia Putokin killed her husband to-day in a rapid duel, to which she had formally challenged him.

The Putokins were both professors of fencing and their rooms were crowded every day with fashionable people. One of these was an army officer, who aroused the jealousy of M. Putokin. This led the officer to issue a challenge, but Mme. Putokin, declaring that her honor had been insulted, sent seconds to her husband and insisted that he should fight her first.

In the actual duel Nadia made a vigorous attack. The husband contented himself with parrying her thrusts, but in the third bout his wife's rapier pierced his heart and killed him instantly.

PENSIONS TO POOR MOTHERS.

Washington to Pay $15 a Month for First Child and $5 Each for Others.

TACOMA, Jan. 26.—Washington will be the first State to pay pensions to mothers. The judiciary committee of the lower house has acted favorably on the bill and a majority of House and Senate favor its adoption.

The bill provides payment of $15 a month for the support of the first child and $5 monthly additional for each additional child of destitute mothers.

The House judiciary committee has reported favorably a bill providing for the payment by the State or county of $1.50 a day to destitute wives of inmates of penal institutions for the work of prisoners in prison or in road gangs. This law will cause a larger use of prisoners on State road work.

POLICE TO GUARD PARLIAMENT.

Fear Trouble To-day From Suffragettes at Franchise Vote.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Owing to the threats of the suffragettes as to what they will do in case the amendment of Sir Edward Grey to the franchise bill is rejected to-morrow the police are taking extreme precautions to preserve order about the Parliament buildings. Two thousand constables will be concentrated at Westminster and there will be 100 mounted men.

There will be undoubtedly a big crowd drawn by the hope of fun with a lot of women who have no interest in the franchise bill. If any rioting should occur the police will promptly clear Parliament Square. The members of the Cabinet will be guarded at every move by two detectives and their homes will be protected by the police.

EVA TANGUAY BACK OF ARREST.

Actress Says Shipwright Annoyed
Her 15-Mat.

Eva Tanguay had William J. Trahey, a thirty-two-year-old shipwright of 173 Dikeman street, Brooklyn, arrested yesterday. She says that a year ago he wrote, telling her that she was a child of the sun and that for a price he could give her an extraordinary reading.

She was appearing at the Brighton Theatre at the time. She sent him a dollar and Trahey sent back word that the stars had told him that she was to be his bride.

Then a woman in the South advised her to leave "Willie" alone.

She didn't write any more to Trahey, she says, but he kept on writing to her, and last week she got a letter advising her to pay Trahey the $100 that the writer said she owed him. Then, says the actress, she turned the letters over to her lawyer.

WILSON'S BROTHER WANTS JOB.
Seeks Place as Secretary of Senate—Supported by Luke Lea.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Joseph R. Wilson of Nashville, Tenn., brother of President Wilson and a newspaper man, is a candidate for secretary of the United States Senate and is supported by Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee.

Mr. Wilson was employed at the national Democratic headquarters in New York city during the campaign.

There are several other candidates in the field, one of them Robert M. Gales, Washington correspondent of the Mercury Commercial Appeal. Robert G. Woolley, formerly connected with the Washington bureau of a New York newspaper and a native of Kentucky, is also in the race.

MRS. F. J. SHEPARD AT CHURCH.
With Husband She Attends Morning Service in Trenton.

Trenton, Jan. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Shepard attended services this morning in the Irvington Presbyterian Church and heard the Rev. Dr. Daniel Russell, who married them, preach the sermon.

After the service the congregation gathered around Mr. and Mrs. Shepard and showered them with good wishes. It was the first opportunity the people of the church had of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Shepard, none of them having been invited to the wedding. A social half hour was enjoyed, after which Mr. and Mrs. Shepard returned to Trenton.

They walked to and from the church at the suggestion of Mr. Shepard, who wanted to get the benefit of the morning air. Mrs. Shepard wore a dark blue broadcloth suit with a small hat to match.

NEWPORT MAYOR MAKES RAIDS.
Small Gamblers Arrested at Famous Summer Resort.

Newport, Jan. 26.—That William MacLeod, now Mayor of this city, meant what he said in his campaign speeches—that the gamblers could expect no quarter from him, showed by three raids, two of them early to-day.

The places visited to-day are small, one of them run by negroes, where naps were gathered in for shooting naps. The other place was a so-called athletic club, where ten young men were taken playing cards.